HOUSE ESTATE • CARDIFF

A wide-angle photograph of a stone building with a prominent arched entrance, nestled among lush green trees. A paved path leads from the foreground towards the building. The scene is bathed in soft, dappled sunlight, creating a romantic and idyllic atmosphere. Large trees frame the left and right sides of the image, with their shadows cast onto the path and lawn. A large, leafy tree with purple flowers is on the right. A weeping willow tree is on the left. The building is made of light-colored stone and has a dark roof.

you've arrived somewhere

As you sweep down the grand tree lined driveway and arrive at Pencoed House's majestic arched entranceway, you know you have arrived somewhere rather special.

A residence with a rather regal air - unsurprising since the Estate was once home to descendants of a King of Glamorgan.

Offering an idyllic and serene setting in the heart of the South Wales countryside, Pencoed House Estate provides the perfect fairytale wedding venue for the most important occasion of your lives.

If planning your big day is something you've dreamed of all your life, then we firmly believe in bespoke.

history & folklore

The many residents of the Estate have included a Member of Parliament, Sheriffs of the County, Ministers of the Church, numerous affluent farmers and descendents of a King of Glamorgan.

Legend even dictates that it was once the residence of King Arthur and Queen Guinevere, and that the Black Prince – during turbulent times - once hid his wife for four months in one of the tunnels supposedly linked to Pencoed.

The origins of the Estate remain the subject of much debate, but it seems most likely that it was built by Jevan ap David, a Welsh notable, in the early fifteenth century.

Whatever its origins, Pencoed House Estate is one of the oldest properties in the County of Glamorgan still occupied as a private residence, and remains a jewel in the County's crown.

banqueting hall

The impressive Old Hall features authentic stone walls, a striking vaulted ceiling, and a lively log fire to add warmth to chilly winter days.

The Hall can be arranged in either theatre or cabaret style to accommodate your preferences.

Ideal for hosting your dream wedding ceremony, the Old Hall can seamlessly transition into the perfect setting for the wedding breakfast.

In the evening, the Old Hall provides an excellent space for your DJ or band to kick off the night's festivities.

Just beyond is the enchanting Cwrt Clive glass building, featuring an automatic retractable roof and underfloor heating - ideal for all seasons.

A step away is the Woodland Bar, an appealing, self-contained licensed bar that serves as the perfect location for pre and post-event drinks receptions.

a quaint bar with

panoramic views

A venue as exclusive as ours deserves an extraordinary bar, characterised by its stone walls, plush plum upholstery and breathtaking panoramic views of the surrounding woodland.

Our pride stems from the exceptional drinks selection and extensive wine list we offer. The champagne menu showcases a carefully curated assortment of Perrier Jouet champagne. For ale enthusiasts, we feature award-winning ales from our local brewer, Glamorgan Brewing Company, alongside premium lagers and on-tap Guinness.

Additionally, our Glenfarclas whiskey library boasts selections dating from the 1960s to the 1990s, complemented by well-stocked gin and rum cabinets.

To align with our flexible approach to weddings, we are delighted to craft a personalised drinks package tailored to complement your catering choices.

Upon confirming your booking, you will receive a personal invitation to attend one of our complementary wine tasting evenings. This ensures that your chosen drinks perfectly harmonise with your selected menu, offering you complete peace of mind for your special day.
